

Year-Long Access to our Engagement Team Before & After

Getting access to the Creative Coping Toolkit is just the first step. Schools also get to tap into our tech, marketing, and Engagement Team, including access to the filmmakers to brainstorm how the CCT will work best within your school community. We do this by providing the following:

1. Year-at-a-Glance Planning Meetings

With school and district administrators, parent leaders, or teachers, IMPACTFUL works with you to map out the year-long implementation plans aligning with your community learning goals.

2. Facilitator, Non-Expert Sessions

We provide training for users to quickly understand how to use and implement the program. Training can be a space for users to bring ideas, questions, or concerns, begin lesson planning, and brainstorm ways of using the program throughout the year. These can be in addition to, or during, already scheduled Professional Development Training.

3. Virtual One-on-One or Group Meetings

Prior to the launch and during the year we offer 20-minute meetings with CCT users throughout the school community, such as counselors, PTA members, and teachers. This time can be used to brainstorm new ways of leveraging the CCT, discuss implementation experiences, and provide feedback on troubleshooting.

4. Creation of Resources

Our team will aid in the custom creation of marketing and communication materials that meet the needs of the different communities to ensure a successful rollout and high engagement.

5. Updates on CCT Programming

We communicate via phone, email, Zoom, Teams, and Google Meetings to ensure users stay up-to-date with the latest improvements and additions to the program.

Click to Return to the Alaska Statewide Home Page